POSTGRADUATE CLINICS

2:00-3:30 p.m.—
	Clinic 1 (Founders Room)----- Prevention of Amalgam Failures DR. JOSE E. MEDINA '48 Associate Professor of Operative Dentistry

Amalgam, one of the most universally used materials in dental practice, is also one of the most commonly abused. The purpose of this presentation is to point out how cavity design and amalgam manipulation control the success or failure of the final restoration. The accepted technique of a Class II restoration from preparation to polish will be discussed, with special attention being given to those phases that are liable to contribute to failure. Visual aids will be employed to demonstrate the problems involved in achieving an ideal and lasting amalgam restoration.

Clinic 2 (Parlor M) ----- Gold Inlay Restorations
DR. KENNETH V. RANDOLPH '39
Professor of Operative Dentistry

The gold inlay is often avoided by the average dentist because of its time demands and the relatively high fee which must be charged for the service. Consequently, inadequate substitutes are used, with ultimate failure in many instances. The object of this clinic is to present gold inlays as a more practical consideration for both the patient and dentist. The details of cavity designs, wax manipulation, and investing and casting procedures will be demonstrated by means of slides and tooth models. Special attention will be given to those procedures which simplify the inlay technique and which satisfy esthetic requirements.

Clinic 3 (Mt. Vernon Room) ----- Fixed Partial Prosthesis
DR. I. NORTON BROTMAN '36

A Kodachrome presentation will be made of some of the principles and technical procedures followed in fixed bridge prosthesis from the single abutment through full occlusal reconstruction. Some of the highlights of occlusal adjustment, tooth preparation, impressions, temporary protection, use of radiographs, bio-mechanics, etc., will be presented from the most practical viewpoint.

Clinic 4 (Parlor H) ----- The Porcelain Jacket Crown
DR. ERNEST B. NUTTALL '31
Professor of Fixed Partial Prosthesis

The discussion will cover problems associated with preparations, impressions, color selection and cementation. The factors contributing to the causes of failure will be analyzed. A procedure of preparation will be demonstrated, using some of the newer instruments and increased engine speeds.

3:30-5:15 p.m.—

Clinic 5 (Parlor H) ----- Radiographic Interpretation
DR. BENJAMIN A. DABROWSKI '40
Associate Professor of Roentgenology

This presentation incorporates an infinitely detailed study of dental roentgenograms that are clearly indicative of pathology. In the interpretations will be included cases that are definitely of local origin and others that are proved to be exemplifications of systemic conditions.

Clinic 6 (Founders Room) ----- Partial Denture Service
Professor of Dental Prosthesis

Attention will be given to the preparation of the mouth for partial dentures. Special crowns for abutments will be discussed. Judicious grinding of natural teeth for occlusal rest and clasp arms will be given consideration. Impressions and designs will also be discussed.

Clinic 7 (Mt. Vernon Room)
Microtrauma and the Temporomandibular Joint
DR. WILBUR O. RAMSEY '43
Associate Professor of Dental Prosthesis

This will include a clinical approach to diagnosis and treatment of those disorders of the temporomandibular joint and associated structures which have their origin in microtrauma of occlusion. Dysfunction will be considered in view of normal anatomy, symptomatology and response to palliative and remedial treatment.

Clinic 8 (Parlor M) ----- Periodontics in General Practice
 DR. W. ROBERT BIDDINGTON '48
 Assistant Professor of Oral Medicine

The purpose of this clinic will be to correlate the signs, symptoms, etiology, structural changes, and treatment of periodontal diseases that are more commonly seen by the general practitioner. The presentation will be illustrated with lantern slides.

 DR. BRICE M. DORSEY '27
 Professor of Oral Surgery

Problems in surgical diagnosis and treatment of conditions occurring in and about the oral cavity will be presented. There will also be a general discussion of malformations, anomalies, benign growths and traumatic injuries which are problems to the practitioner of dentistry.

Clinic 10 (Mt. Vernon Room) ----- Traumatic Injuries to the Teeth
 DR. IRVING I. ABRAMSON '32
 Assistant Professor of Oral Medicine

The clinic will cover injuries to the pulp from the ages of six to sixty and the diagnosis and treatment of fractures of anterior teeth in children in which the pulp has not fully calcified. Pulpotomy and root therapy will be discussed, injuries to the pulp of permanent teeth due to mechanical, bacterial, and traumatic influences will be outlined and means of treatment discussed. DR. JOSEPH C. BIDDIX '34

Professor of Oral Diagnosis

This general review of oral diagnosis will include slides of lesions and conditions of both the hard and soft tissues of the oral cavity. Systemic as well as oral factors will be considered. OBITUARY

Dr. Alexander Gordon Lyle '12 (B. C. D. S.) died in Portsmouth, R. I., on July 15. One of the most distinguished graduates in the long history of the B. C. D. S., Dr. Lyle achieved international recognition for his contributions directly to the Navy Dental Corps and indirectly to his profession. He was the first dentist to hold flag rank in the Navy.

Born in Gloucester, Mass., on November 12, 1889, Dr. Lyle practiced in his home city for three years after his graduation. In 1915 he received a commission as Lieutenant (j.g.) in the Navy Dental Corps. Assigned to service with the Fifth Regiment of Marines, he went to France with that outfit. He participated in the Aisne Defense, the Aisne-Marne Offensive, the St. Mihiel Offensive, and the Meuse-Argonne Offensive actions. For extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty on April 23, 1918, during heavy action in the Verdun sector, Dr. Lyle was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. He also received the Silver Star, the Italian Merito de Guerra medal, and the Victory Medal with five stars.

After the War, he spent a tour of duty with the Fourth Marines in China. There followed several assignments on various ships and at various stations. From 1932-1936 he was Head of the Dental Department at the Naval Hospital, Newport, R. I. In 1939 he was commissioned as Captain. He served at Quonset, R. I., till March, 1943, when he received his commission as Rear Admiral and his appointment as Chief of the Navy Dental Corps. After 32 years of service in the Corps he retired in March of 1947, with the rank of Rear Admiral. In 1948 he was advanced on the retired list to the rank of Vice Admiral. Since his retirement he and Mrs. Lyle had been living at their Black Point Farm, in Portsmouth.

One of the most important contributions made by Vice Admiral Lyle during his long Navy career was the introduction in 1945 of mobile dental units for the care of Navy personnel while on shore duty. In 1946 he was the senior member of a special board appointed to put into effect Public Law 284, which authorized reorganization of the dental services, giving the Dental Corps parity with the Medical Corps. STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Freshman Class

REPRESENTING an unusually large number of predental schools and practically all the branches of the armed services, the Class of 1959 entered the School with 108 men and 2 women in its enrollment.

Following in the footsteps of our many predecessors, we embarked on our schedule of thirty scheduled hours of theoretical and practical study in Anatomy, Histology, Biochemistry and Dental Materials, to help prepare us for our profession. With the helpful guidance of both faculty and upperclassmen, we hurdled the first lap of the year and are looking forward to the second semester which promises more social activity, with the Freshman Dance on March 10 and the fraternity rushing.

The Student Mixer Dance afforded us an excellent opportunity to relax and get acquainted. Under the leadership of our very capable officers, we had our own Class party after the first Anatomy exam in November.

Sophomore Class

We have been delivered! Like the United States mail we came through Anatomy and Histology, through Biochemistry and Dental Materials. Yes, we have been delivered into . . . the Sophomore year. This year the histologists of the past are slowly becoming the dentists of the future. We all take pride in preparing a gold foil restoration—for the third time. Stock in the Columbia Dentoform Corporation has risen five times since our class began Crown and Bridge Laboratory. Yes, the omnipresent "gas" still haunts our lives, in Bunsen burners and lactose broth tubes.

The trials and tribulations of our life here at B. C. D. S. have wrought some changes in the class. The more hardy have acquired a large group of "crying towels" through summertime marriages, while several have taken on the added duties of parenthood.

We, the class of 1958, now turn back to our work, eagerly awaiting the next big step in our careers—the clinic. We also look forward to February 4 when we shall hold the 1956 edition of the Sophomore Dance. We'll be looking for all of you; come and share a good time with us.

Junior Class

September, 1955 marked the beginning of our Junior year: white jackets, live patients — confusion, frustration. At last we had "arrived!" Though officially September marked the beginning, many of us started our Junior year early by attending either the summer session or the early clinic session the week before registration. But no matter when we began, it was nice to be on our way.

This year will create many memories for most of us: our first patient, national and state board exams, the first time we missed centric, our first exposure. We learned that dentistry encompasses more than technic labs and books can include. To many of us, 1955 meant the beginning of married life. To the benedicts we offer our most sincere congratulations and best wishes.

The road ahead looks long, but confidence in our ability to become seniors grows with every completed restoration.

Senior Class

Although there are over one million inhabitants in our fair city of Baltimore, there are a select 107 of these who, in their own minds, know that they have achieved the highest honor that a human being could desire—that of being a senior at the B. C. D. S. The maroon letterings on our clinical gowns are the envy of all our fellow students. They also symbolize the "target" that the faculty has aimed at for the past three years: to transform us into dental surgeons who would capably reflect the high standards of our alma mater.

Although our schedule mainly centers around clinical procedures, many lectures are presented to further educate us. We learned from Dr. Biddix in Practice Management lectures that we should commence thinking about that hushed-up word called "money"—after we graduate. We have also been taught by our new Pedodontics lecturer, Dr. Sanders, that the S. S. White Company makes a Number 39 bur. Oral Surgery presented another informative series of lectures which, among other interesting facts, enlightened us on how to procure Orange Bowl Tickets. With all of these gems of wisdom, the seniors look to the day when we can all pass through the two green doors on Greene Street with that all-significant parchment to show to the folks at home.

President: Aaron J. Chmar, Baltimore.

Vice-President: Philip D. Marano, Baltimore.

Secretary: Frederick T. Brennan, Bangor, Maine.

Treasurer: Charles J. Galiardi, Bronx, N. Y.

Sergeant-at-Arms: Norman D. Kisamore, Baltimore.

Historian: Marvin B. Golberg, Baltimore.

Student Senate Representatives: Michael A. Costrino, Milford, Mass.; James P. Norris, Baltimore.

Gorgas Odontological Society

Under the inspiring guidance of Dr. Hahn, the Gorgas Society is continuing in its role as an active honorary student organization, affording its members opportunities to broaden their insight as to our own and relative professions.

Our first formal meeting of the year, held amidst the congenial and hospitable surroundings of the AO house, was highlighted by the traditional initiation ceremony for the new Junior members. To these new members we extend our congratulations. We urge them to accept Senior membership with a seriousness of purpose and a realization of their responsibilities as members of the Society.

Our speakers this year have provided us with knowledge of certain aspects of the practice of our profession which we do not normally encounter in our academic curriculum. Dr. A. A. Sussman, Chief of Surgery at Doctors Hospital and one of Baltimore's foremost cardiologists, gave us an enlightening talk in which he pointed out the effect of the rapid pace of present-day living upon the physical and mental health of the dentist. Dr. Douglas Sanders, from our own Department of Pedodontia, gave us a stimulating lecture on certain aspects of child-dentist rapport.

It is the hope of the members of Gorgas that throughout the remainder of the school year, the Society will continue to flourish as an integral part of the extracurricular program of the B. C. D. S.

Vice-President: Herald D. Green, Irwin, Pa.

Secretary: Albert A. Kapsak, Berwick, Pa.

Psi Omega

Once again, our minstrel show was a howling success. Two months of weekly practices may not have helped our marks, but we all agreed that it was worth the time and effort. The celebration at the fraternity house following the final performance was attended by one of the largest crowds ever to gather for a party there.

Our Halloween Costume Party was a major event of the fall party season. An innovation this year has been the GIGIF party—"Gee I'm Glad It's Friday" party. Who could think of a better reason for a get-together?

Our final event of the year was the annual Christmas dinner sponsored by the Ladies of Psi O.

Sigma Epsilon Delta

During the past few months, the men of Sigma Epsilon Delta have spent many enjoyable hours together. Almost every week end there has been some social function at the house. Following a tradition that was revived last year, the fraternity, in conjunction with its graduate chapter, has held three more Sunday morning breakfasts. In addition to these affairs, we have held not only several parties of our own, but also two with Psi Omega fraternity—one at their house and the other at ours.

One of the biggest events of the fall season was the formal dinner dance at the Emerson Hotel. Our fraternity's guest of honor at this affair was Miss Katharine Toomey.

Thanks to our generous alumni, the house lab has been improved still further by the acquisition of a second oven. Our new alumni, who are in the service, should also be thanked for their constant communications with the house.

Xi Psi Phi

Our new Baltimore home is now a reality. On December 4 the brothers of Eta chapter converged on 2923 North Calvert Street to become neighbors to a number of other college fraternities. This immaculate building is three stories high, with a yawning picture window facing proud North Calvert Street and "fraternity row." It is wonderfully furnished and replete with every convenience for the smooth functioning of a professional fraternity.

Our sincere thanks go especially to Brothers Dobbs, Randolph and Coberth for their tireless efforts in making this new chapter in Zip history possible. May we continually make them proud of their undergraduate Zip brothers.

The coming year will be a very bright one for the Zip calendar promises a memorable initiation for our new house. The crowded schedule of dances, parties, social gatherings and lectures will delight all. The highlight of course, will be the Jazz Concert of February 25 at Lithuanian Hall at which the musical talent of our faculty should make even Norman Granz look up and listen.

Alpha Omega

Zeta Mu chapter of Alpha Omega has the largest membership in its history, 48 active members. With this large group we have had an active year and are looking forward to many activities in the near future.

Our house is getting to look shipshape after a facelifting job. A new recreation room is also being built in the spacious basement of the house. It may not be home but it's getting closer.

Many affairs are planned for this new year of '56. First, we shall have an open house for all those of the dental school on January 14; all are invited. Then will come Founder's Day, the Senior Banquet and other parties.

Student Senate

The Student Senate was organized in 1952 with the objective of serving as a liaison between the student body and the faculty. It helps to maintain and promote harmonious student-faculty relations. It also considers any problems of common interest that may confront the student body and endeavors to recommend solutions. Dr. Marion W. McCrea, Secretary of the Faculty Council, serves as the faculty liaison and advisor. The Senate itself is composed of the presidents of each class and two representatives of each section of each class.

Each year the Senate sponsors a Student Mixer to which all members of the faculty and the student body are invited. This year as always the affair was a great success.

Other contributions of the Senate for the welfare of the student body this year have been:

1. The procurement of photographic laminated identification cards for all students.
2. A new radio for the student lounge.
3. The procurement of sample toothbrushes and toothpaste for the student body.
4. The organization of Golf and Softball Tournaments with trophies for the winners.

The publishing of a student directory and a calendar of all student activities is one of the annual procedures of the Senate.

President: Kenneth E. Bertram, Baltimore.

Vice-President: James P. Norris, Baltimore.

Treasurer: Bertrand S. Dann, Baltimore.

Secretary: William H. Neilund, College Park.

Interfraternity Council

Representatives of all four fraternities have actively participated in the regular Council meetings and projects during this academic year. Interfraternity-independent relationships was the theme of Council goals, and much was accomplished in this direction. As in years past, the Council has been the host at several bang-up parties. The parties were longingly anticipated, well attended and greatly enjoyed. The one complaint — supply not equal to demand. Perhaps the one accomplishment which will do the most to exemplify the purpose of the Council was the inauguration of the Interfraternity Council Award. This award will be presented annually to that senior who in the opinion of his class members has contributed the most to student activities during his four years at the B. C. D. S. The Council has been active and successful this year, and it appreciates the aid and encouragement which it has received from the faculty and students.

1955 CLASS REUNIONS

Because of the fragmentary information submitted in several instances, the customary full accounts of the five-year reunions cannot be presented in this issue. Some of the reports must, therefore, be confined to a bare listing of those present.

1910

Four men of the 1910 Class returned for their forty-fifth reunion. The dinner was held at the Blackstone Apartments under the direction of Dr. Davenport.—Arthur Davenport, Charles Gilmartin, S. V. Strickler, and James Tippett. Charles B. Roberts, of the B. C. D. S. Class of 1900, also was present.

1915

The Class of 1925 gathered at the Stafford Hotel for their thirtieth reunion. Harold Golton, the chairman, deserves great praise for the very impressive attendance of forty-two members. The speaker for this memorable occasion was the most distinguished member of the group, Daniel Lynch, President of the American Dental Association.—Edward E. Aston, Theodore Baum, John Beard, Roy Bridger, Balthis Browning, Hermann Chase, Carrol Chewning, Bernie Coberly, E. M. Colvin, Joseph Deelaney, Nicholas Dudasik, Harold Golton, Louis Greenwald, William Hart, Clifford Higby, Daniel Hinebaugh, Lewin Hitchock, Samuel Hoover, George Kerlejza, Jacob Lazarus, Frank Lewis, George Loehwing, Daniel Lynch, Frank McCrystal, George McEvoy, Michael McQuaid, Oscar Meyer, Barney Olitsky, Linwood Ortel, Charles Peluso, George Phillips, Charles Polk, George Resh, Leonard Romino, Francois Shinn, Arthur Siegel, Theophile Sousa, Louis Ulanet, Charles Webb, Paul Wilhelm, Robert Williams, and Howard Wood.

The Women's Committee entertained the visiting wives at an outdoor barbecue supper and card party. On Friday the men joined the ladies for a cocktail party and dinner-dance at the Park Plaza. The honored guests were Dr. and Mrs. Myron Aisenberg.—Alvin Aisenberg, Nathan Baker, Arturo Benavent, Norman Bianco, Boyce Brawley, Bernard Brown, John Cadden, Joseph Cohen, Harry Dressel, Frederick Farris, Eugene Flesher, Robert George, Russell Gigliotti, Henry Gillers, Frank Gilley, Michael Giuliano, Albert Grant, Martin Grossbart, Irving Jacobs, Walter Levine, Matthew Macek, John Markel, Ralph Menichino, Robert Merriam, Ernest Nardone, Abner Rowe, Robert Voorhees, Bernard Wilkins, and Louis Wiseman.

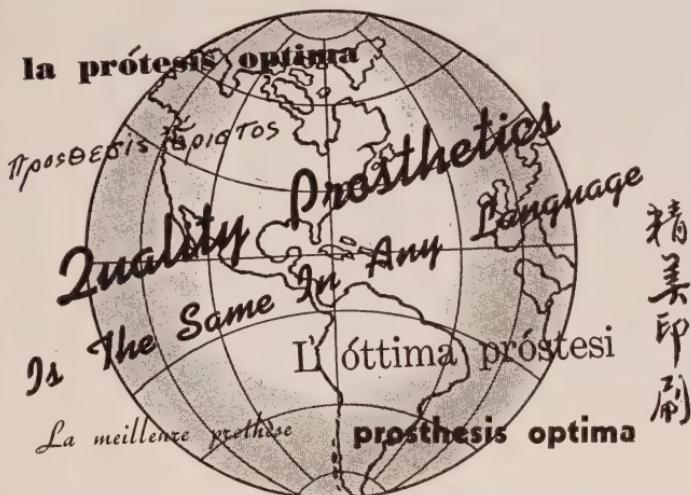

1950

Forty-one members of the Class of 1950 returned for their first reunion, a highly commendable showing that reflects the fine organization work done by Arthur Bushey and his committee. The class made the unusual decision—that is, for a first reunion—of holding a dinner-dance, which was preceded by a cocktail party.

EDITORIALSYour Alumni Association

The recent March meeting emphatically demonstrated the values to be derived from a strong alumni organization. Only within recent years has the National Alumni Association been able to begin putting into effect those ideas that had been in the minds of its leaders during the years of the building period. The triennial meetings certainly rank high in the accomplishments of the Association. The two meetings held in 1953 and 1956 were well planned and productive of very satisfactory results both professionally and socially. The Journal, sent twice a year to each alumnus, has undoubtedly made a vital contribution to the building up of support and participation by the membership. The Maryland breakfasts held in connection with the A.D.A., the Washington, and the Greater New York meetings reflect not only the Association's widening efforts but also the spirit of loyalty among its several thousand members. This loyalty is also consistently revealed by the fine attendance at the reunion dinners sponsored, on the overall level, by the Association. The exemplary work done by Saul Gale and his faithful coworkers in organizing the New Jersey alumni group has resulted in noteworthy dividends within the state. The New Jersey example is currently being followed by groups in other states, particularly in New England, that are developing plans of organization. The National Alumni Association, in co-operation with the School, will in June send out questionnaires to all alumni. The inauguration of the annual Distinguished Alumni Award is another distinctive indication of the good work being accomplished by your Association. The presentation of certificates to members of the Golden Anniversary classes has proved to be an impressing feature of alumni activity.

Only with a strong organization can the Alumni hope to achieve important results in their associated efforts. The contributing membership now stands at 840. Join with your fellow alumni in their efforts to attain an active membership of well over 1000!

You and the Alumni Records

For several years the development of the Alumni Records has been the major research project of the School's Department of Dental Literature. The first task was the organization of a file containing a card for each of the more than 8,000 graduates of the five Baltimore dental schools. Besides the name of the graduate, the original entries included the year of his graduation, his school, and his home state or country. Then began the challenging search for biographical materials, especially in regard to the men who had graduated before 1900. From the archives of the School and from painstaking examination of the literature there has been derived a great deal of information. The data have been recorded on the respective cards. Thus the Alumni Records constitute a valuable collection of facts.

The next step in gathering information for the Alumni Records will involve the participation of every living alumnus. In June you will receive a questionnaire. Your School and your Alumni Association urge you to fill out the data sheets and return them so that the information provided by you can be recorded on your card. You are an important person, for you are a graduate of the first dental college in the world. It is the ambition of your Association to have the best Alumni Records of the dental schools of this country. Do your part—your information is necessary to the accomplishment of an important purpose.

MARYLAND NIGHT IN CAMDEN

The February meeting of the Southern Dental Society of New Jersey was designated as "University of Maryland Alumni Night." The meeting, attended by 75 members, was held in the Walt Whitman Hotel, Camden, following a dinner. Dr. Milton Asbell '38 is the President of the Society; Dr. Samuel A. Blank '22, the Chairman of the program, presided. Dr. Myron S. Aisenberg, Dean, and Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley, Professor of Dental Literature, were guests of the Society. Dr. Aisenberg addressed the group on "Diagnosis of Malignancies in and about the Oral Cavity." The presentation was copiously illustrated by lantern slides. Mr. Foley spoke on "Dental Lore." Other alumni members who attended were Dr. Edwin C. Barnes '31, President-Elect; Dr. William D. Brown, Past President (1940-41); Dr. Abraham Hirshorn '37; and Dr. Otto G. Klotz '36. Dr. Leon Mazzotta '45, of Wildwood, also was present.

In recognition of the visit of Dr. Aisenberg and Mr. Foley, the Society very graciously made a gift of fifty dollars to the Albert A. Harrington Fund, which was established in 1954 by the New Jersey Alumni Association.

Presentation of Miss Toomey's Portrait by the Class of 1928 (Drs. Costanza, Brown, Eggnatz, Deems, Corey, Guerra, and Machokas)

PRESENTATION OF MISS TOOMEY'S PORTRAIT BY THE CLASS OF 1928

The Luncheon of the second day of the Second Triennial Meeting was attended by 400 alumni and other friends who gathered to pay a finely deserved tribute to Miss Katherine Toomey, Administrative Assistant of the B. C. D. S. The principal speaker was the Honorable Theodore R. McKeldin, Governor of Maryland. Dr. Paul A. Deems, representing the Class of 1928, presented the portrait of Miss Toomey to the School. Dr. Myron S. Aisenberg, Dean, accepted the portrait for the School. The portrait, by Jacob Gluchakow, now hangs in the corridor leading from the Operative Clinic to the Dean's Office.

These extracts from Dr. Deems' speech of presentation voice the feelings of several thousand alumni: "She helped you overcome the feeling of strangeness and helplessness known to all freshmen. We enjoyed her sense of humor from the very beginning and throughout our school years. . . . She helped us get settled in boarding houses, listened patiently to our troubles, financial and otherwise, visited us and prayed for us when we were sick. . . . She was our friend, councilor, and advisor. . . . Miss Katherine, it isn't necessary for any of us assembled here to have a portrait to remember you by. You will always be in our hearts. This portrait will serve to honor and perpetuate our association with one who has done so much for so many."

Presentation of the Distinguished Alumni Award (Dr. Preis, Dr. Anderson, and Dr. Bimestefer)

THE DISTINGUISHED ALUMNI AWARD PRESENTED TO DR. GEORGE M. ANDERSON '19

A very impressive feature of the Alumni Dinner held on March 3 was the first presentation of the Distinguished Alumni Award. Dr. Kyrle Preis '29, Chairman of the Committee on Selection, presented Dr. George McCullough '19 as the first recipient of the Award. Dr. Lawrence Bimestefer '34, President of the National Alumni Association, conferred the Award on Dr. Anderson.

Besides Dr. Preis the Committee on Selection included Drs. Irving Abramson '32, Arthur Bell '19, Joseph Cappuccio '46, Albert Cook '33, Elmer Corey '28, Gerard Devlin '23, James Ferguson '15, Francesca Guerra '28, Harry Levin '26, Eugene Pesagno '40, and Kenneth Randolph '39.

This representative group, after a careful analysis of the records of the large number of alumni who were considered for the Award, endorsed unanimously the selection of Dr. Anderson.

Dr. George McCullough Anderson was born in Principio Furnace, Md., on October 21, 1897, the son of George McCullough and Linda Brown Anderson. The Andersons moved to Port Deposit in 1900, where George received his preliminary education. Following his graduation with honors from the Tome School in 1915, he entered the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. In his Junior year he was Subscription Manager of the Mirror; and in his Senior year Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. He received the Diamond Medal awarded annually to the graduate with the highest average.

Dr. Anderson began his professional career by entering the office of Dr. Harry Kelsey '96, the first to practice the specialty of orthodontics in Maryland. He remained in association with Dr. Kelsey till 1925, when he opened his own office.

Throughout his thirty-seven professional years Dr. Anderson has been an unusually versatile and effective participant in the activities of dentistry on the local, state, national and international levels. As President of the Baltimore City Dental Society (1926) and of the Maryland State Dental Association (1931), he demonstrated markedly superior qualifications as an administrator. He has continued to be a consistently vital participant in the affairs of these organizations.

By his sagacious thinking and his highly competent handling of many responsibilities, Dr. Anderson has made an exceptional record of accomplishment in alumni affairs. He served as President of the National Alumni Association, 1935-1936. The prime motivator of the triennial alumni meetings, Dr. Anderson also contributed more than any other alumnus to the development of the Journal of the B. C. D. S., which he helped to found in 1937. Until 1954 he served most helpfully as a member of the Advisory Board of Editors.

In the field of dental education Dr. Anderson exhibited unusual capacities as a teacher and as a provocative force in encouraging a large number of our graduates to select orthodontics as a specialty practice. Dr. Anderson was the Professor of Orthodontics on the faculty of his alma mater from 1926 to 1948.

A prolific contributor to the periodical literature of dentistry, Dr. Anderson's best known literary contribution is Practical Orthodontics, which is widely used as a textbook. His Orthodontic Laboratory Manual was published in 1930. He edited the Section on Orthodontics of The Yearbook of Dentistry, 1935 through 1938. As editor of the Proceedings of the Dental Centenary Celebration, a monumental work of 1061 pages, Dr. Anderson produced a volume that merits recognition as a prolific source of information concerning the progress of dentistry to 1940 and its inclusive status in that centennial year.

Dr. Anderson's memberships reflect his wide professional interests and his keen realization of the values to be derived from organization. They include Xi Psi Phi, Omicron Kappa Upsilon, Federation Dentaire Internationale, American College of Dentists, American Society of Dentistry for Children, New York Academy of Dentistry, International Association for Dental Research, Maryland Historical Society, Mexican Orthodontic Society (honorary), and European Orthodontic Society (honorary). He served as chairman of the Scientific Sessions of the Dental Centenary and of the American Dental Association Committee to Revise the Code of Ethics.

The Distinguished Alumni Award now belongs to our ethical and historical heritage. In selecting Dr. Anderson as the first recipient of the Award, the alumni have honored themselves.

ALUMNI BREAKFAST IN WASHINGTON

Forty-seven graduates of the B. C. D. S. attended the Maryland Alumni Breakfast held at the Shoreham Hotel on March 13 in association with the Twenty-Fourth Postgraduate Clinic of the District of Columbia Dental Society. Twenty-two classes were represented by alumni who came from eight states and the District. Dr. Ernest Williams '38, chairman, presided.

Dr. Daniel Lynch '25, Past President of the American Dental Association, introduced Dr. Robert Mills '10. In a very moving talk Dr. Mills presented his Major General's flag to his alma mater. Dr. Myron Aisenberg '22, Dean, accepted the flag and informed the group that the flag would be placed in the School's Museum, where it would be given deserved recognition as a valuable and dramatic reminder of the illustrious career of one of the most distinguished alumni in the long history of the B. C. D. S. Dr. Mills gave credit to Miss Katherine Toomey, Administrative Assistant, for encouraging and aiding him to carry out his presentation.

Dr. Mills entered the Army as a contract surgeon in 1909. He was commissioned as First Lieutenant in 1911. On September 17, 1943, he was given the commission of Major General, thus becoming the first dental officer to achieve this rank. On September 30, 1946, General Mills retired after over thirty-seven years of Army service. In 1945 he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal for "exceptionally meritorious service, in a position of great responsibility as Director of the Dental Division, Office of the Surgeon General, from March 1942 to September 1945."

Dr. Lawrence Bimestefer '34, President of the National Alumni Association, greeted his fellow alumni. He stressed the fact that the Washington breakfast meeting was one of several annual alumni gatherings sponsored by the Association and administered by various capable chairmen. Future plans of the Association call for other sectional and area Maryland meetings to be held in conjunction with customary meetings of various dental societies.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

ALTHOUGH still fatigued by examinations, it looks as if the majority will pull through our first year. Our enthusiasm has not lessened to any great extent, but our physical reserve is nearing depletion!

Our first year wasn't all work, however, for we became acquainted with the School of Nursing and Goucher College, and we were well represented at all the School dances. The second term provided more social activity, with fraternity rushing and our own Freshman Dance, at which we played host to the other classes.

The class is emerging from its first year of dental training proud of our progress and accomplishments, and grateful to the members of the faculty who guided us. With our year almost completed, we are anxious to commence the Sophomore year.

Four months from now the Class of 1958 will enter the second phase of their life work—the Clinic. We have worked diligently during the past two years in preparing for this time. We have met the challenge of the exacting demands in Operative Dentistry. We have polished our bridges until the rouge became an integral part of the restoration. We have studied hard and long to reach this point.

For most of us, this is a time of excitement, anxiety, wonder, and perhaps a little fear. We have completed the major part of our preclinical studies and look forward to proving ourselves. What will it be like, this world of clinical dentistry? The frequently talked of "practical case" will be ours to handle. No longer can we "get a new tooth" or "pencil the outline form." We shall no doubt approach our patients with more reverence than the rubber-cheeked dentoform of the laboratory.

To those who have trained us thus far—our thanks. To those who will guide us through the next two years—please be patient. The challenge of our profession is before us, and we will make everyone proud. This is the Class of 1958!

Junior Class

With the coming of Spring, all of nature's beings seem to take on new life. Not the least of these, it appears, are dental students, particularly junior dental students. As the Easter holidays fade into the past, the hustle of the junior class is increasing with every passing day with the realization that in a few short weeks our junior year will be over, provided we can finish the number of restorations required to make us seniors. Between now and June, most of us will be busy indeed.

Our class dance was held this year at the Southern Hotel, and while, as its sponsors, we decline to say that it was the best dance of the year, it nevertheless was a very enjoyable affair.

This summer will see most of us attending the summer clinic, trying to get a head start on our senior requirements. Graduation still appears far away, but with nearly three years behind us, we're beginning to plan for June, 1957.

Senior Class

The days are getting longer but the time is growing shorter for the pompous 1956 Seniors. As we pass through the clinic we hear such things as the tapping of the last of the gold foils being inserted and the ululating of the patients as the toothpick wedge is inserted against the celluloid matrix for silicate restorations. The pedodontia appointment sheets are now as crowded as the pathology sheets, with the names of Seniors who are completing their 38 pedodontic restorations.

A lot of the gas floating around is attributed to the "mock boards" that are in session. The odds are now up to 3 to 5 that the inlay cannot be completed in 4 hours. The remainder of the confusion may be accounted for by the National Boards. If questions are asked such as whom the Weidelstadt Chisel was named after, we might still have a slim fighting chance. I am sure that questions pertaining to the "snakes" found in our ethical profession along with problems of D.M.F. in Public Health Dentistry will be answered.

With all of these worries confronting us Seniors, we still remember the day that we were asked to submit measurements for our graduating caps and gowns, and we look forward to June 9 when we can shake hands with "our" Dean Aisenberg and earnestly say "thank you."

Gorgas Odontological Society

With an increase in the tempo of academic activities and with a growing feeling of expectation and anxiety as graduation approaches, we of the Gorgas Society anticipated the culmination of our year's activities as an active honorary dental society. With the advent of the new officers, elected at the special meeting held April 3 at the Psi Omega house, we looked forward to the annual Spring Formal, the Society's most attractive social function of the year. This year, the formal was held on April 7, at the Park Plaza Hotel. At this event, as in the past, the new officers, who will conduct the remaining meetings of the year, were formally presented. The speaker of the evening was Mr. Gardner P. H. Foley, our Professor of Dental History, who was introduced by Dr. Joseph P. Cappuccio.

Our speakers at the monthly meetings during the latter part of this year have proved especially interesting and informative. Many fields related to the study and practice of dentistry were discussed, in the hope that we might gain from our membership in Gorgas an insight into and an understanding of several problems remote from those posed by the routine practice of dentistry.

With the installation of the new officers and a new year of Society activities approaching, there is, we believe, a definite opportunity for a great increase in the value and benefits to be obtained from membership in the Society. It is, therefore, the responsibility of the incoming senior members of Gorgas to make next year one which may add impressively to the excellent dental education gained through four years at the B. C. D. S.

Xi Psi Phi

This has been a bright year for the Zips, one we shall never forget. So many blessings have been heaped upon our fraternity in such a short space of time that few of us look back to reconsider the tremendous strides made in the five short months since the good ship's happy voyage from 13

East 22nd Street to 2923 North Calvert Street.

One of the events of the year was, of course, the Jazz Concert at which such a good time was had by the student body, faculty and friends that it promises to be an important annual event on our social calendar. The Jazz Concert also marked the finale of a most gratifying and successful rush week. The largest group in our history was pledged.

We of the Xi Psi Phi owe a great debt to our graduating brothers. They have put us on top, and to them we pledge our continual efforts to remain there.

Sigma Epsilon Delta

During the past few months Sigma Epsilon Delta has made great strides. Socially, we have had our share of the rounds of parties, banquets and balls. During the month of February we had a rush period. It was climaxed by a smoker, a gala dinner party, and a Sunday morning breakfast. Rushing was successful in that several freshmen pledged to Sigma Epsilon Delta. They became brothers of the fraternity at the annual initiation ceremony which was held in April at the Park Plaza Hotel.

Now that the weather is changing, our thoughts are turned to outdoor activities. Several soft-ball games, picnics, and a hayride are among the activities planned for the spring.

As the school year draws to a close we shall send three men to the professional world: Fred Fink, Marvin Friedman and Steven Miller. To them we wish the best of luck for a healthful and prosperous future.

Psi Omega

In recent months, we Psi Omegans

have been more active than ever. Weekly work parties, under the direction of "jack-of-all-trades" Ralph Monroe, have transformed the TV room into a Hi Fi lounge and library which will be equipped with dental and other types of literature. Further improvements on the bar and in the laboratory, along with replacement of old window frames, are contemplated for the summer and fall months.

The School soft-ball league has begun again, and we hope to repeat the one, two, three standings of the Psi Omega teams of last year.

The winter social season, with its numerous parties, was climaxed with a Monte Carlo Party which was well attended and highly successful. Relations with the ladies' group and the alumni have improved following a Square Dance and White Elephant Sale sponsored by the ladies and a stag get-together with the Alumni. The high point of the remaining social calendar will be the Psi Omega Formal at the Southern Hotel on May 4.

The Psychosomatic Dentistry Study Group

On April 29, 1955, thirty-three men in the Class of 1957 formally ratified the Constitution of the B. C. D. S. Psychosomatic Dentistry Study Group. The basic objectives of this fledgling organization are to develop interest in the ethical use of psychosomatics in clinical dentistry among the students and faculty of the B. C. D. S. and to increase the knowledge and proficiency of the members in the use of controlled suggestion.

The enthusiasm and sincerity of the members for this extracurricular activity can be attributed in large part to the very capable and professional leadership of our faculty advisor, Dr. Wilbur O. Ramsey. In addition to extensive collateral reading, the scope of instruction during the year has emphasized professional ethics in the use of controlled suggestion, the historical background and progress of psychosomatics, and the practice of various techniques of controlled suggestion applicable in clinical practice. The Study Group celebrates its first birthday with a sense of accomplishment and with hope for continued growth and development in the future.

The Dental Photography Study Group

At the beginning of the current school year, several members of the Class of 1957 organized the B. C. D. S. Dental Photography Study Group for the purpose of developing knowledge and skill in the uses of photography in clinical dental practice. Under the guidance and instruction of Mrs. Josephine Schueler, our faculty advisor, the members studied cameras, lens systems, film types and development, lighting, and methods of clinical photography. Since February, Mr. Claude Taylor, the newly appointed head of the Visual Aids Department, has been acting as our advisor. The Study Group was most fortunate in having the opportunity of visiting the office of Dr. Jerome Cullen, Department of Orthodontics, and observing his excellent photographic arrangement and technique. In the future the Group hopes to expand its activities and provide a program which will enable a larger number of interested students to participate in dental photography.

Newman Club

A Newman Club has been founded at the Baltimore College of Dental Surgery. This new organization at the B. C. D. S. is under the clerical guidance of Fathers Gouch and McCory. The first meeting, held on April 27, showed an enthusiastic student group. The first major function, a Communion Breakfast held at the Stafford Hotel following mass at the Cathedral, on Sunday, May 13, was successful. Plans for the next school year are underway.

THE SCHOOL'S EXHIBIT AT THE COLLEGE PARK CENTENARY

The centennial of the founding of the Maryland Agricultural College, the original component of the present College Park Division of the University of Maryland, was celebrated at College Park, March 3-6. The outstanding feature of the program was the exhibits set up in the new Student Activities Building. The scores of exhibits, representing every school of the University and every department of the College Park Division, were visited by several thousand people during the several days and nights of the celebration period.

Dr. Aisenberg appointed a committee of faculty members to organize and set up the School of Dentistry's exhibit: Dr. Robert Biddington, Dr. Hugh Clement, Dr. Edward Dobbs, Dr. Calvin Gaver, and Mr. Gardner Foley, Chairman. The exhibit attracted a great deal of interested attention and received high praise from University officials and the Centenary officers, who designated it as one of the four exhibits meriting special commendation.

The various materials were presented in four separately titled booths. Booth 1 contained some of the finest items from the Museum. The most interesting of these was the dentures made for George Washington by John Greenwood in 1797. Booth 2 illustrated the story of dental education during the 116 years since the founding of the first dental college. Booth 3, titled "Dental Health Problems," employed moulage models and an impressive collection of slides to illustrate vividly many of the important problems the contemporary dental student is trained to observe and treat. Booth 4, "Opportunities in Dentistry," explained and illustrated the varied interesting and rewarding careers available to the young men and women who choose to enter the dental profession.
